A Message from the Chair

Miss Lucy Corr's vision and passion for providing senior citizens in our community a "little extra lift in life" is the reason there is a Lucy Corr Foundation. The Foundation is committed to providing the "extras" like over $1M in free dental care to residents and members of the community who do not have insurance coverage for oral health care.

This year, in addition to free dental care, we have been able to provide Art & Music Therapy, bringing creative expression to our residents and the participants in the Lucy Corr Adult Day Center; purchase a new 20-seat passenger bus; and award a continuing education scholarship to a deserving employee.

Cherie Tew, Chair

Thank you for helping to make the "little extras" possible. While I can express the thanks of the Board of Directors, it is the words of our residents and those who have benefited from your generosity, that mean the most. Therefore, throughout this Annual Report, we will let those who have received "a little extra lift in life" say, "thank you" in their own words.

- Cherie Tew, Chair

Lucy Corr Free Dental Clinic

(top) Dr. Patricia Brown Bonwell (bottom) Volunteer dentists are assisted by student dental hygienists.

In 2018, the LCFDC provided a record breaking $301,742 in free dental services to Lucy Corr residents and community members who are uninsured and who are unable to afford oral health services which are a key component to overall health, especially for the elderly. Managed by dental clinic coordinator, Dr. Patricia Brown Bonwell, the clinic depends on 17 volunteer dentists, students from VCU Dental School and other local training programs and schools. Financial support from local foundations and individuals make it all possible. Since its renovation in 2012, the LCFDC has provided $1.366 million in free services.

Art & Music Therapy

*Music Therapy in the LC
Adult Day Center*

Throughout Lucy Corr, residents are involved in art and music therapy. All residents of the Health Care Center and Assisted Living units as well as participants of the Adult Day Center are encouraged to explore their creativity led by art therapists from Lamb Center for Arts and Healing and Mary Johnson from ArtZ. Music therapy is provided by Healing Sounds of Richmond. The program staff at Lucy Corr are also instrumental in providing art & music therapy.

Resident Transportation Services

Sponsored by:

- Mary Morton Parsons Foundation
- Chesterfield County Board of Supervisors
- Lucy Corr Employees
- Lucy Corr Residents
- Friends of the Lucy Corr Foundation

A $30,000 challenge matching grant from the Mary Morton Parson's Foundation was met in December 2018, which will fund a 20-passenger bus to transport residents to off-site opportunities for entertainment and enrichment. The match was accomplished by donations from Lucy Corr Foundation Board members, the Chesterfield County Board of Supervisors, Lucy Corr residents, area businesses, and a local church. The sweetest gift was a $10 contribution given by a ten-year-old out of his hard-earned allowance.

Sonny Currin presents the final matching gift to executive director Debra Marlow.

"Thank you for being so kind to my mother." Christiane V., Daughter of Resident

Jake Mast Nursing Scholarship

Kay Mast (left) and Derrick Kendall, Lucy Corr CEO presents Jacqueline Gonzalez with the Scholarship Award.

The Lucy Corr Foundation is pleased to announce the first recipient of the Jake Mast Nursing Scholarship as Lucy Corr employee Jacqueline Gonzalez. Ms. Gonzalez began her clinical training at Lucy Corr in 2011, and after graduating from ECPI in October, 2012 she began working full time for Lucy Corr. Since she began as an LPN she has become the Neighborhood Care Manager for the Midlothian Unit. Her recommendation indicates that, "she is a great asset to the quality of care provided to the residents" and "her dependability, caring and motivation helped her to become a great clinician and valued member of the nursing department." With her scholarship, Ms. Gonzalez is now studying to become a Registered Nurse.

"The nursing staff at Lucy Corr is first-rate. They become like family." Mrs. T, LC Resident
